2020

Valedictorian: Joanne Noordam
Salutatorian: Nikitha Zenuhin

We have gone through the long and tough race of middle school and have finally reached the finish line, but we didn't run this race all alone, we ran it together as a team. Cheering each other along, supporting each other when it got tiring and hard to keep going, and celebrating our successes together.

We started our race sprinting, the adrenaline of starting middle school keeping us up and moving for the start of our middle school careers. Then we started to find our pace in seventh grade, knowing when to speed up, when to slow down, and where to place our feet around the turns and rough patches of the track. Now we are finishing 8th grade, we are stronger, faster, and can see the finish line up ahead. We are being watched by the other students just beginning their races or are in the middle of them, watching our pace and techniques to get to the finish line.

High school will be another race with another set of turns, terrain, but we will be ready for it. We couldn't finish this race without the help of our peers.

Thank you to all the teachers and staff, you have been a major part in our success, teaching us the curriculum as well as many life lessons in the classroom. Thank you, Mr. Uselman, for making math fun and for those helpful SEL talks. You lightened the mood in our days and gave fantastic advice. Ms. Watts for teaching us not to be problem makers, but instead taught us innovative ways to be problem solvers. You taught us how to do things on our own hands with responsibility. Mr. Seiler for all those pep talks to finish our work and to be good examples for other students. You taught us a good work ethic. Mrs. Woodall for showing what can all be done with technology. Ms. Allen for keeping us on track to meet our goals and for making life easier through organization. Ms. Sherwood for keeping our Behavior in check with a spray bottle. Your classroom was always an environment full of smiles and happiness. To the Secretaries and Mr. Palmer, for being with us along the way. Also, a huge thanks to all of the Butte Creek parents, willing to pick up a student from sports practice or for any other reason, early drop offs, helping and chaperoning for a field trip or a school event (like our graduation), and supporting us all the way through.

As we continue on to high school, we will set new goals and make decisions that will continue to define us as they did in middle school. We will never forget the many memories we made, the bonds we built, and all the life lessons we learned at Butte Creek.
